The Victory Theater is one of the newest venues available at The National World War II Museum for your special event. The Victory Theater will allow you to make a big impact on your guests, customers or clients. Surrounded by a 120 foot wide screen with luxurious seating, your guests will feel immersed by the sights and sounds of your presentation or film.

With seating capacity of up to 250, the Victory Theater is an ideal venue for business networking, film premieres or a corporate presentation. The Theater atrium offers the perfect pre or post presentation space for cocktails or dinner. You can customize a savory menu by New Orleans' own award-winning chef John Besh, that will delight your guests. The Museum offers a wide range of additional services such as decor, audio/visual, entertainment and other services quoted upon receipt of your specifications. Full service, turn key services are available by our professional, on-site staff.

Our state-of-the-art, digitally-enabled multi-media venues can show everything from a graphic sales presentation to a feature film. In addition to the four story atrium of the Louisiana Memorial Pavillion, the National World War II Museum can accommodate auditorium-style events in one of our many spaces such as the Stage Door Canteen, Malcolm S. Forbes Theater, or the USS Arizona or USS Missouri Conference Rooms, perfect for film, video, PowerPoint, or other media-based presentations.
