CORPORATE PARTNERSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Our mission at The National WWII Museum is to tell the story of the American experience in the war that changed the world—why it was fought, how it was won, and what it means today—so that all generations will understand the price of freedom and be inspired by what they learn.

The National WWII Museum is a dynamic educational resource serving the needs of teachers and students from grade school through the postgraduate level. Support for educational programming at the Museum helps to continue the ongoing development of classroom materials and professional-development opportunities for teachers in schools across the country, as well as online experiences that bring the Museum and its resources to students around the world.

INSPIRING TOMORROW'S LEADERS

“The past is a source of knowledge, and the future is a source of hope.”

– Stephen Ambrose

The National WWII Museum honors the sacrifice of a generation whose values and ideals forged the American spirit, secured freedom across the globe, and transformed the country into a world economic and political power. The entrepreneurial and patriotic spirit of “dollar-a-year men”—business leaders who cut their annual salaries to one dollar in wartime—inspired their companies to strive for governmental “E” Award recognition for production excellence. The National WWII Museum speaks through their voices to nurture an appreciation of freedom, cultivate leadership, and inspire civic responsibility. We invite you to be part of this continuing legacy.
