The Rise and Fall of Hitler's Germany

MAY 4 – 15, 2020 & SEPTEMBER 16 – 27, 2020

A journey that takes you from Berlin to Auschwitz to Warsaw, focused on the devastating legacy of the Holocaust,
the bombing raids, and the last battles.

Booking early has its rewards. See page 6 for details.

Dear Friend,

To fully comprehend World War II, one needs to understand its origins.

In Europe, the journey to war began in the private meeting rooms and raucous public stadiums of Germany where the Nazis concocted and then promoted their designs for a new world order, one founded on conquest and racial-purity ideals. As they launched the war by invading Poland on September 1, 1939, Hitler and his followers unleashed a hell that would return to its birthplace in Berlin fewer than six years later.

I invite you to join one of the Museum's most unique travel programs, The Rise and Fall of Hitler's Germany. This poignant journey will be led by WWII scholar and author Dr. Alexandra Richie, one of the Museum's closest friends and advisors.

Our guests will travel through Germany and Poland, exploring historical sites and reflecting on how the Nazis rose to power and then brought destruction and misery to Europe. Visiting battlefields, museums and memorials while interacting with locals—and immersed in the expert storytelling of Dr. Richie—tour participants will experience one of the top offerings in the Museum's travel catalog. For WWII history enthusiasts, this is one not to miss!

Sincerely,

Stephen J. Watson
President & CEO, The National WWII Museum

Her most recent work, Warsaw 1944, became the #1 best-selling book in Poland and won the Newsweek Teresa Torańska Prize for Best Nonfiction 2014, as well as the Kazimierz Moczarski Prize for Best History Book in Poland 2015. Her first book, Faust's Metropolis: A History of Berlin, was named one of the top ten books of the year by Publisher's Weekly. Richie earned her doctorate at St. Antony's College, Oxford, and after graduating, worked for the Boston Consulting Group in London restructuring former communist industries across Central and Eastern Europe. She later returned to Oxford as a Fellow of Wolfson College, where she taught history and international relations.

"The trip was fabulous. I learned so much about Poland, the tenacity of its people, and experiences of World War II that most people, even WWII buffs, aren't remotely aware of. An eye-opening experience. Dr. Richie was beyond words. Her knowledge, sense of humor, personal family stories, involvement within the Polish museums and educational communities, and her ability to put up with all of us was amazing. The last night at her house was the icing on the cake!"

-FEATURED- Museums and Galleries

Germany and Poland are home to some of the world's most inspiring museums and will give you a chance to learn about the turbulent history, culture, and stories that impacted generations.

The Warsaw Uprising Museum, Warsaw, Poland (Pictured above)

This museum opened to the public on the 60th anniversary of the 1944 Warsaw Uprising, and is one of the most visited places in Warsaw. It is a tribute to all those who fought and died to free Poland and depicts the struggle of everyday life during the horror of occupation. The exhibits feature photographs, recordings, and videos from before, during, and after the uprising; a replica of a Liberator B-24J bomber used by the Allies during air drops; a 3-D movie of the destruction of Warsaw during the uprising; and a recreation of sewer tunnels used by the Resistance to move around the city.

THE TOPOGRAPHY OF TERROR MUSEUM, BERLIN

THE POLIN MUSEUM, WARSAW, POLAND

The Topography of Terror Museum, Berlin, Germany

Now an outdoor and indoor history museum in Berlin, Germany, Topography of Terror is located on the site of buildings that housed the SS Reich Main Security Office, the headquarters of the Secret State Police, Security Service, and Gestapo during the Nazi regime from 1933 to 1945. More than 1.3 million people visited in 2018, making this memorial site one of the most frequently visited places of remembrance in Berlin.

The Allied Museum, Berlin, Germany

In its permanent exhibition, How Enemies Became Friends, the Allied Museum tells the story of the Western powers in Berlin and Germany from 1945 to 1994. Original exhibits and large-scale artifacts include a plane from the Berlin Airlift, a restored segment of a tunnel used for espionage, and the guardhouse from Checkpoint Charlie. They bring to life the eventful history of a friendship between the people of Berlin and the Americans, British, and French.

POW Camps Museum, Żagań, Poland

During World War II, there were four prisoner of war camps under the command of VIII Wehrmacht Military District with headquarters in Wrocław and three POW camps under the command of the Luftwaffe in Żagań. On the evening of March 24, 1944, 76 prisoners from one of these camps, Stalag Luft III, escaped via a specially constructed tunnel during an event known to history as "The Great Escape." A modern-day museum at this site commemorates what took place there and features a replica of a prisoner's barrack with restored equipment, a replica of the escape tunnel "Harry," and a reconstructed watchtower.

Museum of the Second World War, Gdańsk, Poland

Located where World War II began on September 1, 1939, it is the only WWII Museum in the world dedicated to putting the war into an international context, commemorating the losses of all nations that suffered under German occupation.

The Martyrdom Museum, Auschwitz-Birkenau, Poland

Housed in the former Nazi concentration and extermination camp, the preservation of the original buildings and relics has long evoked controversy. Through international support, this museum takes collective and individual memories into account, along with the accompanying reflections and emotions of its many visitors.

The POLIN Museum of the History of Polish Jews, Warsaw, Poland

The POLIN Museum is located in the area the Nazis turned into the Jewish ghetto during World War II. Beyond the main exhibition that presents the history of Polish Jews, POLIN Museum also functions as an educational center with rich cultural programs working closely with the community at large.

THE EXPERIENCE Berlin

After breakfast, a tour of Berlin begins at the reimagined and refurbished Reichstag building, historic home of the Bundestag (the national parliament) from 1894 to 1933. The massive 19th century building was used during the German Empire, the Weimar Republic, Nazi Germany, and now by a united, democratic Germany. Visit the Berlin Wall Memorial at Bernauer Strasse, where the only preserved section of the notorious wall can be seen, and walk the “no-man’s-land” along the remaining segment. The tour continues to the Topography of Terror Museum, which has housed a permanent exhibition since 1987, when the cellar of a Gestapo headquarters was discovered and excavated. An open-air memorial was erected in memory of those who were imprisoned, tortured, and killed by the Nazis, and the site developed into a prize-winning documentation center. After lunch, visit the Olympic Stadium on the outskirts of Berlin. Built to host the 11th Olympic Summer games in 1936, the stadium was a prime example of Nazi architecture and design, and could hold 110,000 spectators. This evening is free for dinner and independent exploration of Berlin.

HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE THE 1936 OLYMPICS BERLIN, GERMANY

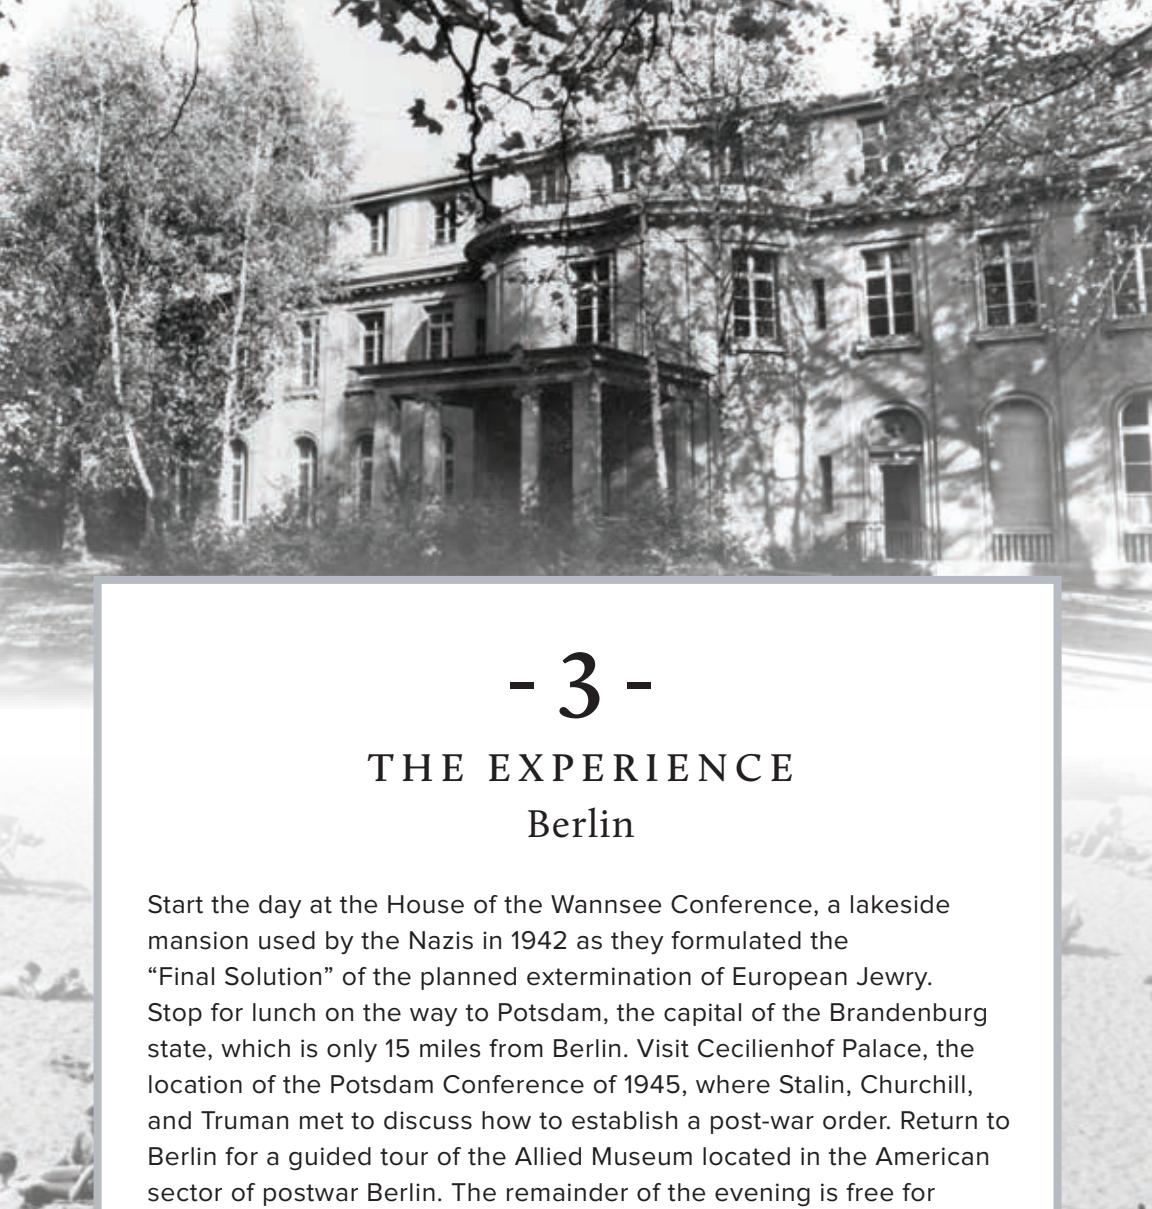

The International Olympic Committee awarded the Games of the XI Olympiad to Berlin in 1931, two years before the Nazis rose to power. Designed as a way to welcome Germany back to the international community after the Great War, the Games eventually became a propaganda tool for Adolf Hitler to display his “new Germany” to the world.

The Games became the spectacle that Reich Minister of Propaganda Josef Goebbels and Hitler had hoped. Many of the conventions of the modern Olympic Games have their roots in 1936. Hitler wanted to promote the Nazi cause by invoking the symbolism of ancient Greece and the glory of the Olympics for his own ends. A torch was lit in Athens and carried by a succession of runners to the Olympic Stadium in Berlin—the first ever Olympic Torch Relay. The Olympic Village on the outskirts of Berlin included more amenities than had ever been available to athletes: each house offered a multilingual steward, beds manufactured to the customary level of comfort of each country, and menus tailored to each participating nation. These were also the first televised Games, with a closed-circuit feed available both in the Olympic Village and on large screens throughout Berlin. Leni Riefenstahl’s film Olympia documented athletes with groundbreaking film techniques.

Careful to avoid international incidents in the early years of Nazi rule, Germany removed anti-Semitic materials, newspapers, and signs from all areas near the Games.

To encounter evidence of the harsh reality of Nazi policies, visitors would have not had to travel far from Berlin. In fact, it was forbidden to include racial descriptions in any official German press reports from the Games. A few journalists such as William Shirer continued to warn the world about the effects of Nazi propaganda, but the prevailing attitude was that these peaceful and lavish Games would help soften the rough edges of the Third Reich.

The 1936 Games have become famous for Jesse Owens’ four gold medals, the participation of Unbroken protagonist Louis Zamperini, and Germany’s sole Jewish representative Helene Mayer. Hitler himself was ecstatic about the success of the Games, declaring that the 1940 Games may be in Tokyo, but “thereafter they will take place in Germany for all time to come.”

THE EXPERIENCE Berlin

Start the day at the House of the Wannsee Conference, a lakeside mansion used by the Nazis in 1942 as they formulated the “Final Solution” of the planned extermination of European Jewry. Stop for lunch on the way to Potsdam, the capital of the Brandenburg state, which is only 15 miles from Berlin. Visit Cecilienhof Palace, the location of the Potsdam Conference of 1945, where Stalin, Churchill, and Truman met to discuss how to establish a post-war order. Return to Berlin for a guided tour of the Allied Museum located in the American sector of postwar Berlin. The remainder of the evening is free for exploring Berlin and enjoying an independent dinner.

THE EXPERIENCE Żagań to Wrocław

After an early farewell to Berlin, the group heads to Żagań, a small city in Poland near the German border. During World War II, Żagań was the site of Stalag Luft III. It was from this camp that one of the most daring prisoner escapes took place, providing the inspiration for the 1963 film, The Great Escape. Around eighty prisoners escaped through tunnels underneath the complex. All but three were recaptured, and fifty were executed. A museum at the site of the former camp is dedicated to the martyrdom of Allied prisoners of war. After lunch in Żagań, continue to Wrocław for the evening.

HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE
THE GREAT ESCAPE
MARCH 24, 1944

The area around Żagań, now in Poland, was selected by the Nazis as the site of Stalag Luft III due to several security considerations. The sandy soil would compromise the integrity of any underground tunnel, and the underground soil contrasted sharply with the surface sand, making any soil dumped from tunneling operations instantly noticeable. Additionally, the Germans placed seismographs around the camp to detect any sounds of digging, and the barracks were raised off of the ground to allow for easy visual inspections.

These obstacles did not deter Royal Air Force Squadron Leader Roger Bushell from launching an ambitious escape plan involving three tunnels code-named Tom, Dick, and Harry. Bushell started by consolidating all escape plans. No tunnels or escapes would be attempted outside of his plan. In the event of detection of one of the tunnels, work could continue on the other two as the guards focused on the first.

Work on the three tunnels began in spring of 1943. More than 600 prisoners worked on the tunnels in various roles such as digging, soil disposal, and scavenging for supplies—especially wood for bracing the sandy soil in the tunnels. The tunnels were thirty feet deep, but only two square feet wide so that they could be easily concealed. Work on Tunnel Dick was stopped to allow it to be used for storage and soil disposal. Tom was discovered by the Germans in the winter, so work stopped on Harry until the Germans' heightened security was reduced.

In March 1944, nearly one year after Bushell first called a meeting about the escape plans, Harry was complete. The original plans called for a summer escape, but the date was moved forward to the first moonless night. The March weather did not cooperate with temperatures below freezing at night, but the escapees continued with the plan. On the night of the planned escape, the entrance to the hatch was frozen, delaying the opening by over an hour, and an air raid alert cut the electricity and the lighting in the tunnel. Finally, the first men made their way outside the camp in the evening hours of March 24, 1944. The tunnel exit was too close to a guard tower, so the flow of escapees had to be slowed to six men per hour. Seventy-six POWs made it out of the camp, but only three evaded capture. To set an example, Hitler ordered all escapees to be executed, but the number was reduced to 50 who were sent to a firing squad.

Dutch aviator Bram Van der Stok managed to evade capture, and was the only one of the three permanent escapees to rejoin the fight. With the Royal Air Force, Van der Stok flew missions over the coast of Northern Europe, was awarded the Order of Orange Nassau from the Netherlands, and was inducted as a Member of the Order of the British Empire. He later settled in the United States, worked as a General Practitioner, and eventually joined NASA's space lab research team.

THE EXPERIENCE

Wroclaw to Kraków

Tour the city of Wroclaw, which was part of Germany until 1945, and was known by its German name, Breslau. Out of range of Allied bombers for most of the war, Breslau remained intact until the closing months of World War II. In August 1944 Hitler declared the city a fortress to be defended at all costs. The siege by the Red Army began on February 13, 1945. Soviet artillery and German defenses reduced the city to rubble. The Germans fought to hold the city for 82 days, but surrendered to the Red Army on May 6, 1945, making Breslau the last major German city to surrender. The city is now majority Polish and was a 2016 European Capital of Culture. In the afternoon, the group continues to Kraków after lunch.

THE EXPERIENCE

Kraków & Auschwitz-Birkenau

Start the day with a brief stop at Oskar Schindler's factory, the site from which Schindler was able to save over 1,000 Jews from the Plaszow forced labor camp, and ultimately from death, as portrayed in the film Schindler's List. After an opportunity to view the exterior of the factory and take photos, enjoy a walking tour of picturesque Kazimierz in Kraków's Old Town, followed by lunch. A thirty-mile drive west of Kraków is the Polish town of Oswiecim, known to history by its German name, Auschwitz. The German occupiers took over this former army barracks in 1940 and populated it with Polish political prisoners. As the war continued, the Nazis expanded and refined the camp, imprisoning Jews from all over Europe or sending them on to their deaths at nearby Birkenau. The Martyrdom Museum at Auschwitz is a ghastly reminder of the inhumanity which humans are capable of. An evening on your own allows reflection on today's touring.

THROUGH THEIR EYES

WŁADYSŁAW BARTOSZEWSKI
1922-2015

The Economist magazine called him “The Great Survivor,” others referred to him as the “Polish Schindler.” He is one of the only people in the world to have been commemorated twice at Yad Vashem as a “Righteous Gentile.” Whatever the label, Władysław Bartoszewski was a remarkable figure. He witnessed some of the worst horrors of World War II, and yet he dedicated his life to the goals of reconciliation between former foes with humor, empathy, and compassion.

Bartoszewski was born in Warsaw, Poland, in 1922. The son of a Roman Catholic banker, he grew up next to the Jewish Quarter with both Catholic and Jewish visitors to the house. On September 1, 1939, he awoke to the sound of bombs falling on Warsaw. Hitler had ordered the first mass terror bombing of the war, and 20,000 civilians died. Bartoszewski volunteered to work as a stretcher-bearer for the Red Cross.

Bartoszewski’s formal schooling ended with the German invasion. Nazi rule in Poland was highly oppressive: schools and universities were closed, along with newspapers, publishing houses, and virtually all other Polish institutions. Bartoszewski continued to work for the Red Cross as a clerk. In September 1940, the Germans began random roundups of men between the ages of 18 and 65. Bartoszewski was 18 years old when the Nazis arrived at his house. They stormed in, grabbed him, and put him on the second-ever transport to a small town in southern Poland where a new camp, Auschwitz, was being built. There, he was photographed, put in striped prison uniform, and given the number 4427.

Life in Auschwitz was intolerable. He watched as friends were beaten to death in front of him; he was forced into slave labor pulling a gigantic concrete roller; food was scarce. By the end of the first year he had become desperately ill. The Red Cross intervened and arranged for Bartoszewski and a number of other prisoners to be released—something which would have been impossible later in the war. He returned to Warsaw sick and too weak to function. His old friend Hanka Czaki, who worked for the Polish Underground, came to see him as he recovered, and over some weeks wrote down his testimony about Auschwitz. It was sent to London and published in April 1942 by the Home Army as Memoir of a Prisoner. It was the first-ever eyewitness testimony published about Auschwitz, and it was the first warning to the Allies about what was happening to the victims in the new concentration camps in German-occupied Poland.

In the spring of 1942 Bartoszewski was interviewed by Jan Karski, a later recipient of the American Presidential Medal of Freedom. As a result of this meeting, Bartoszewski was invited to join the Polish Home Army in August 1942. Disturbed by the increasing brutality directed against the Jews, he became a founding member of The Council for Aid to Jews, code named “Żegota,” was funded from London and helped approximately 50,000 Jews in occupied Poland. The exact number of those aided who survived the war is unknown, but it is thought to be less than 20%. During the course of his work Bartoszewski and the Żegota organization supported well-known activists, including Irene Sendler, who saved 2,500 Jewish children, and the “Zookeeper” Jan Żabiński, who saved Jews by hiding them at the Warsaw Zoo. Aside from his work at Żegota, Bartoszewski personally saved dozens of Jews, and as a result was honored at Yad Vashem both for his work with Żegota and for his own individual contributions. He was also made an honorary citizen of the State of Israel.

After the war, Bartoszewski was arrested and spent seven years in a Stalinist prison. Between 1963 and 1989, he worked in secret for Radio Free Europe. Given his links with the Solidarity movement activists, he was arrested again on December 13, 1981, when the Polish Communist Government declared martial law. When Poland finally threw off the communist yoke in 1989, Bartoszewski became Polish Ambassador to Austria, and then was twice made Polish Foreign Minister. He served as Secretary of State in the Polish Prime Minister’s Office until his death on April 24, 2015.

Władysław Bartoszewski suffered through the horrors of Nazism and Stalinism, and as a result was determined to be a witness to history. He wrote hundreds of books and articles, gave countless interviews, and supported initiatives to remember the war. He was Chairman of the International Auschwitz Committee, and worked tirelessly to promote ties between Poland and Israel, and between Poland and Germany. He was truly a “great survivor.”

THE EXPERIENCE Kraków

Explore Kraków, which was included on UNESCO's first World Heritage list in 1978. Since the Tatar raids in the 13th century, the Old Town has remained mostly intact, making it the only large Polish city to escape the destruction of World War II. The tour day begins at St. Mary's Basilica before breaking for an independent lunch in the Old Town Square. Rynek Główny in Polish, the square is known for its quaint cafés and excellent shopping. The afternoon includes a visit to the Wawel Royal Castle, the residence of Polish kings for hundreds of years, and the gothic Wawel Cathedral, where Polish kings were crowned and buried for centuries. During the war Hans Frank, Governor General of the occupied Polish territories, installed himself in the Wawel Castle. Calling himself the "King of Poland," he surrounded himself with stolen art including Leonardo Da Vinci's Lady with an Ermine, and wielded his terrifying power over the population. Continue on a walking tour to Jagiellonian University, founded in 1364 by Casimir III the Great. Over the centuries, the university has educated some of Europe's most respected figures, including Nicolaus Copernicus, Pope John Paul II, and Nobel Prize-winning poet Wisława Szymborska. Take a stroll through the university's lovely botanical garden, which is more than 200 years old. Return to Old Town to visit Cloth Hall, which historically functioned as the main marketplace of the town. Board a short flight for Gdańsk this evening.

The National WWII Museum's Road to Victory brick program honors the WWII generation, the American heroes who served during the war, and their families. The goal of our program is to celebrate the American spirit while forging a link between the present generation and the generation that fought to secure our nation's freedom during World War II. Therefore, the Museum reserves the right to deny requests for inscriptions that might be considered offensive or inappropriate to those who sacrificed during the WWII era, or messages that do not align with the Museum's mission, which is to tell the story of the American experience in the war that changed the world—why it was fought, how it was won, and what it means today—so that all generations will understand the price of freedom and be inspired by what they learn.

Prices quoted are based on fares in effect at the time of printing and are subject to change at any time. On land and/or cruise programs, up to the time of full payment the Museum reserves the right to increase the tour price in the event of cost increases due to changes in supplier costs, currency fluctuations or fuel or energy surcharges and all such increases are to be paid to the Museum upon notice to the tour participant of such increases.

HEALTH, MEDICAL AND TOUR REQUIREMENTS

All guests are required to advise in writing to the Museum at the time their reservation is made if they have:

- Any physical or mental condition that may require medical or professional treatment or attention during the tour;
- Any condition that may pose a risk to one's self and/or other participants on tour;
- Any condition that may require health aids, i.e.; oxygen, walkers, crutches, etc., or any intention or need to use a wheelchair while on the tour.

By booking passage the guest represents and warrants that he/she is physically and otherwise fit to travel and that guests will comply at all times with applicable rules and regulations of the Museum. The Museum reserves the right without liability to require a passenger to leave the tour or to refuse to accept a guest as a tour participant who, in the sole judgment of the Museum, is unfit to travel, is a danger to himself or herself or to others, does not follow instructions of the tour leader, may distract from the enjoyment of the trip by others or may require care beyond that which the Museum is reasonably able to provide.

We highly recommend that participants purchase a travel insurance package that provides medical coverage since most U.S. policies do not provide coverage outside the United States.

LUGGAGE

Luggage will be limited to one (1) suitcase and one (1) carry-on per person to ensure that there is enough room on the motor coach for all passenger luggage. All luggage must be securely packed and clearly labeled. We recommend that all participants secure baggage loss and damage insurance that may be purchased for this tour.

Please see airline weight and size restrictions for luggage on international flights. The Museum is not responsible for loss or damage to luggage or any other personal item during air travel, while in a hotel during land programs, on a cruise or while on shore excursions. Under no circumstances may dangerous items (i.e. explosives, firearms, liquid oxygen, combustible or illegal substances) be taken on the tour. We recommend that you hand carry travel documents (passports and tour tickets), medications and valuables, and check with your airline regarding carry-on baggage restrictions. These items are the full responsibility of the guest at all times. The Museum shall not be responsible for the loss of or damage to such personal items.

LAND TOURS, LECTURES AND PERSONALITIES

All tours are operated by independent contractors. These independent contractors may impose additional terms and conditions and limitations of liability on tour participants. Other independent contractors retained by the Museum such as lecturers, guest personalities and entertainers are subject to change and/or cancellation without notice.

TRAVEL DOCUMENTS

All travel documents (air and tour tickets, passport) are the responsibility of the guest. It is also your responsibility to comply with all customs requirements. Without the required documents, you may be denied boarding and the Museum will not be liable for such denial or bear any financial responsibilities as a result thereof.

Security measures imposed by governments may change from time to time and you will be required to comply with them. We will endeavor to provide you with notice of measures which may affect you; but complying with any such requirement is your responsibility.
