ABOUT US

Consistently rated by TripAdvisor as the top attraction in New Orleans, and nestled in the heart of Downtown, The National World War II Museum is set on a six-acre campus, where five soaring pavilions house historical exhibits, on-site restoration work, a period dinner theater, and restaurants. Through exhibits, multimedia experiences, and thousands of personal accounts, the Museum takes visitors on an immersive tour of World War II in every theater of war.

What better place to create the perfect setting to celebrate your big day. Invite your family and friends to our newly completed outdoor venue, the Col. Battle Barksdale Parade Ground, that will provide a picturesque backdrop for you to say "I do!" Then dance the night away beneath our B-17 aircraft in our US Freedom Pavilion: The Boeing Center.

Just across the street, the Higgins Hotel is an excellent option to set up a room block for your guests traveling from out of town or those wishing to avoid driving after a night of merriment.

Surrounded by a backdrop of Hollywood glamour, guests will be transported to another era. During World War II, Stage Door Canteens hosted a steady stream of GIs headed off to war, offering a welcome opportunity to forget their anxieties, with entertainment, fellowship and a little American spirit. The National WWII Museum honors this memorable war-time tradition in our very own

HISTORIC. BB's Stage Door Canteen.

The American Sector Restaurant & Bar, the Museum's full-service restaurant, also offers options for social and corporate events in a setting that mingles 1940s glamour with modern decor. Lined with the portraits of the stars of the bygone era, the restaurant pays tribute to the ladies and gentlemen that entertained the troops both on the home front and overseas.
