

EVENT RENTALS

Signature In-House Entertainment for Private Events

Overview

The National WWII Museum adds a unique dimension to special events with timeless 1940s-style entertainment! The Victory Belles, our charming vocal trio, delights visitors and often performs with our signature musical groups—the Victory Swing Orchestra, the Victory Six, and the Victory Trio. These talented professionals help keep America's magical musical history alive, celebrating this unique era and making any event all the more special.

The Victory Belles

The Victory Belles are a delightful vocal trio who have serenaded audiences around the world! Their repertoire includes treasured gems of the WWII era plus patriotic classics, including a musical salute to each branch of the US armed forces. Performances consist of two 20-minute shows, three 15-minute shows or one show up to 60 minutes, with or without costume changes depending on venue.

Glamour Girls & Guys

Available for photo ops, meet and greets, and as human arrows:

- + Glamorously attired Girls and Guys in costumes inspired by Hollywood stars of the 1940s
- + Island Cuties (Girls and Guys)
- + Sailor Sweethearts (Girls and Guys)
- + Khaki / South Pacific Uniform (Guys Only)
- + Donut Dollies
- + Patriotic Dolly
- + Yankee Doodle Girl
- + Other Seasonal Sweethearts (sure to warm any holiday party!)

The Victory Swing Orchestra

Made up of the finest jazz musicians and jazz educators in New Orleans, the Victory Swing Orchestra presents classic big-band music by Glenn Miller, Benny Goodman, Harry James, Artie Shaw, Tommy Dorsey, Duke Ellington, Count Basie, and many others. Complete with period costuming and stagecraft.

The Victory Swing Orchestra includes a 14-piece big band with vocalist, and like many bands of the WWII era, includes a variety of smaller ensembles: the Victory Six with the optional addition of a vocalist, the Victory Quartet, and the Victory Trio.
